Points from Club Assembly

John King - President

New Barbecue - The new barbecue is being manufactured and should be available in the not too distant future. The manufacturers were so impressed with our design that they are planning to adopt it for their future use.

Old Barbecue - We plan to advertise the old barbecue on E-Bay and Gumtree. It will have a reserve of $ 3,000, which is not publicised so offers may even exceed this value.

Markets Roster – Sometimes it is very difficult to find enough people to go on the markets roster. As our biggest fundraiser, we really must support this monthly event.

COMMENT - Claire Neumeyer; Many older members would like to help more at the markets but are not as capable as they once were. We need more younger members to help out and we need to be more friendly to them. Our club can sometimes be a bit cliquy.

Ash Constance - Club Services Director

Next Year's Projects – As incoming President he welcomes suggestions of projects that we could get involved in for our next Rotary year. Any ideas should go to Ash, please.

Our Club – He also emphasised that the Cooma Rotary Club is OUR club, not just for the board. Therefore, he encourages everyone to have input in how the club should be run.

Comment- Dugald Mitchell; The board should form a closer interaction with the members. Decisions are not always explained adequately.

Response – This year Minutes from board meetings have been shared with club members, with very little feedback.

Mark John-Natley - New Generations

RYPEN - We had three participants at the recent RYPEN weekend. The Brindabella E-Club paid the cost for one and our club paid for the other two, with the cost coming to $600.

The participants will give a short presentation to the club on 19th June. That is the night Sacha gives her farewell speech to our club and the Interactors will also be present. It will be a 'youth' night worth attending and to bring guest too.

Elaine Schofield

Membership - At the last Club Assembly, it was suggested that we invite all the staff of a particular business for one of our meetings to encourage membership. We could advertise at various businesses (eg Snowy Hydro, Council, etc) when we have an exceptional speaker and give an open invitation to all staff to attend our meeting. She wonders if this has been discussed by the Membership Committee.

Peter Davis

Meals at meetings - he complimented the caterers for the quality of meals we get each week.
