A farewell from Marco and a hello from Glenys

Marco thanked all members for making it a memorable year. COVID impacted many things including our dinner meetings but all Directors managed to undertake activities throughout the year. We welcomed new members and bid a sad goodbye to Brenda Constance, John Clarke and Rob Simms. As a club we have risen to the occasion and the challenges thrust upon us and as we emerge from the restrictions placed upon us, we are a stronger club.

He finished by wishing Glenys all the best for the upcoming year, which he has no doubts will be busy and eventful.

Glenys opened by acknowledging how pleased and humble she is to be the President of the Cooma Rotary Club for the coming year. She acknowledged the great work done by Marco and the outgoing board.

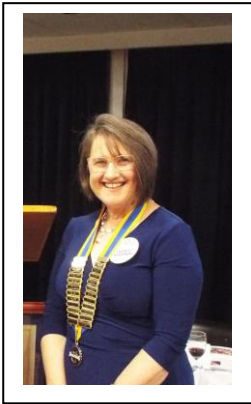

She said she is aware that being President is not a job that is done alone and if anyone feels she might need a hand up or a shoulder to lean on do not hesitate to offer either. By working as a team, we can achieve much.

The theme chosen by our International President, Shekhar Mehta, is Serve to Change Lives. His own mantra is service is the rent I pay for the space I occupy on this earth. Glenys wants all members to be great tenants along with herself. Up to this point our club has contributed to many projects both big and small, locally and internationally and she hopes we will continue to do so and change some lives.

The year ahead is full of promise with the chartering of the first EarlyAct club in our District at Cooma North Primary School, the cemetery memorial park and walk and the East Cooma Park along with other projects which will come along during the year.

Our club has now entered the phase of renewal and to achieve this we need to diversify and be inclusive. To quote Verna Myers - "Diversity is being invited to the party; inclusion is being asked to dance" so let each of us ask someone to join our party and also make sure we ask them to dance.

By working together and celebrating our diversity not only will our club benefit but so will our community.

The final event of the night was to welcome the new Board of the Cooma Rotary Club. President Elect/Club Service – Peter Bascomb, Immediate Past President – Marco Revelant, Treasure/Market Director – Terry Maddren, Secretary – Katrin Hackney, Executive Secretary – Margaret Hassall, Community Service – Sandra Mortimer, New Generations – Charlee Hommen, Vocational Service – Babu Jesudas, International Service – Sally Thornton, Foundation – Ash Constance, Membership – Neil Brown. Leadership -New Members Mentor – Kevin Dunne, Media/Marketing – Nadine Holland.
